

The Mother's Choice

SUPPOSE A LADY HAS TWO SONS
— ONE MA PASSED — ~~WAS~~ KNOWLEDGEABLE
EMPLOYED AT DELHI — HELPFUL TO OTHERS
OTHER SON 3 YEAR OLD — DOES NOT LEAVE MOTHER'S SIDE EVE WHEN SHE GOES FOR BATH — THOROUGHLY DEPENDENT
— GOVT GIVES HER A CHOICE —
CHOOSE ONE OF THE M — IT IS EMBARRASSING — BUT
SHE HAS TO CHOOSE — SAYS
MY ELDER SON JNANI CAN
LOOK AFTER HIMSELF. THIS CHILD
KNOWS NOBODY BUT ME. IF
SEPARATED IT WILL DIE —

Suppose a lady has two sons – one MA passed – knowledgeable, employed at Delhi – helpful to others.

Other son, 3-year-old – does not leave Mother's side even when she goes for bath – thoroughly dependent.

Government gives her a choice – choose one of them.

It is embarrassing – but she has to choose. Says, 'My elder son Jnani can look after himself. This child knows nobody but me. If separated it will die.'